READER'S Recipe

FILET MIGNON WITH MUSHROOM-CABERNET GRAVY

1 tablespoon olive oil
2 (8 ounce) (1 inch thick) filet mignon steaks
1/2 teaspoon sea salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon butter
1 large shallot, chopped
12 ounces sliced fresh white mushrooms

1 cup Cabernet Sauvignon or other dry red wine
1/2 cup beef broth
1 1/2 teaspoons chopped fresh thyme
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons water

Heat olive oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Sprinkle the filets with salt and pepper, gently place them into the hot skillet, and sear until well-browned on each side, about 2 minutes per side. Remove the steaks to a platter, tent with aluminum foil, and keep warm.
Turn the heat down to medium, and melt the butter. Cook and stir the shallot and mushrooms in the butter until the mushrooms begin to give off their liquid and the shallots are translucent, about 5 minutes. Stir in the wine, beef broth, and thyme, and simmer the sauce until it begins to reduce, 6 to 10 minutes. Return the steaks to the sauce, and simmer briefly until they start to become firm and are reddish-pink and juicy in the center, about 2 to 4 minutes per side (for medium-rare.) An instant-read thermometer inserted into the center should read 130 degrees F. Remove the steaks to serving dishes.
In a small bowl, stir the cornstarch and water until it forms a smooth paste. Stir the cornstarch mixture into the pan sauce, and cook and stir until thickened, about 30 seconds. Top each serving with mushroom-wine sauce to serve.

A Supplement To The East Penn Valley & Northern Berks Merchandisers February 6, 2019

Are You Protecting Your Eyes From The Sun?

Drs. John and Lori Smith from Hamburg Family Eye Care would like to share recommendations from the American Optometric Association in regards to protecting your eyes from UV light given off by the sun. If you can answer "yes" to one or more of the following questions, you could be at higher risk for harm to the eyes from UV radiation: Do you spend a great deal of time outdoors? Do you spend time skiing, mountain climbing or at the beach?

Do you use a sunlamp or tanning parlor? Are you a welder, medical technologist or do you work in the graphic arts or in the manufacture of electronic circuit boards? Have you had cataract surgery in one or both eyes? Do you take prescription or over-the-counter drugs that can increase your sensitivity to UV radiation? (If you are unsure, check with your optometrist, pharmacist or physician.) The longer the eyes are exposed to solar radiation, the greater the risk of developing cataracts or macular degeneration later in life. It is not clear how much exposure to solar radiation will cause damage. Therefore, whenever you spend time outdoors, wear quality sunglasses that offer UV protection and a hat or cap with a wide brim.

To provide adequate protection for your eyes, sunglasses should: • block out 99 to 100 percent of both UV-A and UV-B radiation; • screen out 75 to 90 percent of visible light; • have lenses that are perfectly matched in color and free of distortion and imperfection; and • have lenses that are gray for proper color recognition. If you spend a lot of time outdoors in bright sunlight, consider wearing wraparound frames for additional protection from the harmful solar radiation. Don't forget protection for children and teenagers. They typically spend more time in the sun than adults. More information can be found at <https://www.aoa.org/patients-and-public/caring-for-your-vision/uv-protection> or by calling Hamburg Family Eye Care at 610.562.4548.

Reduce Accident Pain And Heal With Chiropractic Care

Did you know that automotive accidents are one of the leading causes of injuries? In 2012, more than 5.6 million car accidents were reported to law enforcement and car insurance companies, and the numbers keep growing. The attorney referral service and legal information resource Find Law says the economic cost of car accidents is estimated at $277 billion each year.

In addition to causing property damage and damage to the vehicle, car accidents can result in various bodily injuries that may impact a person's ability to function and work. Some of the more common injuries include trauma to the head, back and neck. Many different treatments can help people who have been involved in auto accidents. Including chiropractic care in treatment plans may help people decrease their pain and improve their mobility.

It is important for people involved in auto accidents to seek medical care immediately even if the need for medical attention doesn't seem readily apparent. Adrenaline can staunch symptoms, and a person may exacerbate an injury if he or she hasn't undergone a medical exam after a car accident.

Persons involved in auto accidents can visit chiropractors as part of their post-accident treatment plans. Chiropractors can perform various services to help people overcome their injuries.

- Assess invisible injuries. Whiplash can produce symptoms hours or even days after an accident. Soreness, dizziness and pain may not register on X-rays or imaging tests. However, a chiropractor may have the tools to assess injuries that result from tension, misalignment and micro-tears in ligaments and muscles.
- Reduce inflammation. Chambers Medical Group says that spinal manipulations and pressure release techniques can realign the spinal column and help release an anti-inflammatory substance through the body that can lower pain and inflammation.
- Improve pressure. Manipulations also can reduce pressure in the neck area, which in turn may ease the pain of headaches, stiffness, dizziness, and even ringing in the ears, according to the chiropractors at Pain Stop Clinics. Chiropractic care may be used alone or in concert with other treatment options. Medical professionals can work together to provide a regimen that will ease pain and help patients get on the road to recovery.

What Is CBD Oil?

by Lori Kleinsmith

Cannabidiol, better know as CBD, is becoming a popular natural remedy used for many common ailments. Naturally accuring, CBD is one of the 104 chemical compounds known as cannabinoids extracted from the flowers and buds of hemp (cannabis) plants. Tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) is the main psychoactive cannabinoid found in cannabis, and causes the sensation of getting "high" that's often associated with marijuana. However, unlike THC, CBD is not psychoactive. You do not get a "high" from taking CBD.

The fact that you do not get a "high" makes CBD a very appealing option for those who are looking for pain relief and other symptoms without the "high" you get from marijuana or certain pharmaceutical drugs.

CBD oil is made by extracting CBD from the cannabis plant, then diluting it with a carrier oil like coconut or hemp seed oil. The health benefits of CBD oil is backed by scientific evidence and is gaining momentum in the health and wellness world. Some scientific studies confirming it may help a variety of ailments like chronic pain and anxiety. Also may help with reducing acne, alleviating cancer-related symptoms, decreasing inflammation, lowering blood pressure and so much more.

Are there any side effects? Most people experience no side effects. Some of the side effects may be drowsiness, diarrhea, dry mouth and change in appetite. As always it is best if you consult your doctor before starting CBD oil to avoid any drug interactions.

When buying CBD oil many people prefer using an organic full-spectrum (whole plant) oil instead of an isolate (one part of the plant). Make sure your CBD is high quality. There are many subquality knockoff oils out there on the market.

To try a sample of Karma Farma 1000 CBD Oil and My CBD Remedies creams, (CBD honey coming soon) and for more information, stop in at Pinnacle Hypnosis and Therapies, 400B S. Fourth St., Hamburg, PA 19526 on Wednesdays, Noon to 5 pm or call 610.823.4160.

Thinking of Selling

in spring or summer? Don't wait till then! Berks County has a historic low inventory of homes at this moment. Therefore, there is less inventory of homes for Buyers to choose from and Sellers will sell their property in record time!

Thinking of Buying?

Did you know there is a program for first time homebuyers in the Hamburg/Northern Berks areas that provides 100% financing thru USDA. And, the Seller can contribute up to 6% of the sales price towards Buyer's closing costs. So why pay rent when you can own!!! Very little monies required from Buyer. Call our office today for more details!
