What is CBD Oil?

By Lori Kleinsmith

Cannabidiol, better know as CBD, is becoming a popular natural remedy used for many common ailments. CBD is one of the 104 chemical compounds known as cannabinoids found in the cannabis or marijuana plant. Tetrahydro-cannabinol (THC) is the main psychoactive cannabinoid found in cannabis, and causes the sensation of getting "high" that's often associated with marijuana. However, unlike THC, CBD is not psychoactive. You do not get a "high" from taking CBD. The fact that you don't get a "high" makes CBD a very appealing option for those who are looking for pain relief and other symptoms without the "high" you get from marijuana or certain pharmaceutical drugs. CBD oil is made by extracting CBD from the cannabis plant, then diluting it with a carrier oil like coconut or hemp seed oil. The health benefits of CBD oil is backed by scientific evidence and is gaining momentum in the health and wellness world. Some scientific studies confirming it may help a variety of ailments like chronic pain and anxiety. Also helping with acne, alleviating cancer-related symptoms, decreasing inflammation, lowering blood pressure and so much more. Are there any side effects? Most people experience no side effects. Some of the side effects may be drowsiness, dry mouth and change in appetite. As always it is best if you consult your doctor before starting CBD oil to avoid any drug interactions. When buying CBD oil you want a good quality oil. There are many subquality oils out there on the market. Look for the "MG". Karma Farma 1000 is a 1000mg, high quality oil available in 30ml and 10ml concentrate. Also available in doggie chews. Perfect for calming down that scared pet. To try a sample of Karma Farma 1000 CBD Oil and for more information stop in at Pinnacle Hypnosis and Therapies, 400B South Fourth St., Hamburg, PA 19526 on Saturday, July 14, 9 am to Noon. 610-823-4160 www.pinnaclehypnosis.com To pick up your bottle and pack of doggie chews stop in any Wednesday from 12 noon to 5 or the second Saturday of the month for July, August and September between 9 am and Noon. Ask The Acupuncturist...

Veronica Cavella Pedersen, L.Ac.

Q.: I spent a summer in China and lived across from a hospital. It was always busy, but I noticed that on a few days there were lines of patients out the door. I asked my Chinese friend about it and he said they were there to get a special treatment given on specific days to treat winter diseases in the summer. Is that treatment done here, and what does it involve?
A.: Your friend was talking about a traditional treatment in Chinese Medicine called Dong Xia Bing Zhi, and he was correct in saying that it treats during hot weather diseases which occur, or are worse, during cold weather. These would include respiratory diseases such as asthma, frequent common colds, seasonal allergies, bronchitis, pneumonia, chronic cough, and wheezing. Some other chronic disorders which are considered to be of a cold nature like some types of poor digestion, or arthritis pain worsened by cold, can also benefit from this treatment. Anyone with a weak constitution may benefit as well. This unique traditional treatment is conducted over 3 or 4 days in summer that are determined based on the Daoist Astrological calendar, and predicted to be the hottest days of the year, the San Fu, the proverbial "dog days of summer". You may ask how can these days be predicted way in advance, and I would compare these predictions to our own "Farmer's Almanac" which is reported to be an amazing 80% accurate!
No needles are used in this treatment which make it particularly attractive to some, and usually makes it more acceptable to children. Instead several Chinese herbs are combined and ground into a powder. The herbs chosen may vary, but will be of a warming and pungent nature. The powdered herbs will then be mixed with a liquid to form a paste. Sometimes just water is added, but I prefer fresh organic ginger juice which I can prepare as needed. Then a small dab of the herbal paste will be applied to a few acupuncture points selected to treat the patient's complaint, and the paste will be secured in place with some surgical tape. For children a cute character bandaid it always a big hit!

The patient goes home with the herbal poultices in place. They are retained for four to six hours, no longer, depending on the sensitivity of the patient's skin. Because of the warm, even hot, nature of the herbs used, the patient must pay attention to how he is reacting as a burn can result if let go too long. Parents will need to monitor a child and remove the poultice if the child complains of any discomfort or if excessive redness occurs. It is normal for the treated area to become pink, but this will soon fade. This method of treatment is an ancient tradition, not often used outside of China and not always taught in Acupuncture schools here in the U.S.; however, some Acupuncturists will offer it. This year the days for treatment are July 17, July 27, August 6 and August 16, although a day before or after is acceptable. For optimum results one should have the treatment done on all four days, but some is better than none.

Veronica Cavella Pedersen, L.Ac. practices Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Medicine for adults and children at 154 Deysher Road, Fleetwood, PA 19522 (Rockland Township), and at The Inner Peace and Wellness Center in Hamburg, PA. 610-987-0489.
